There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to satisfy the body simply because the stomach is not in fit condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given time. You ought to take something that will do the work your stomach can't do. Red Pepper will do this. It is a combination of natural elements and vegetable acids. It acts the food back and gives strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. & R. R. train from Portland to Los Angeles, Ore., via San Fran. A well known hotel keeper with some other passengers, when one of them went into the wash room came back and said, "There is a woman死 in death, in there." I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramps, her hands and arms were drawn up so tight could not straighten them, and with a terrible look in her eyes. Two or three others were washing with her and driving her狂暴. I went to my own case and got my bottle of Quinine's Oil, Chloroform and Dilute Salicylic Acid. I took water from a bottle of oil in the distribution tank. In the glass pour some water into it and stirred it with a pencil, then I had made 4 cups of tea. The lady began to improve in her, but I succeeded, I could not save her. After the doctor and the Oracle intreated I gave her an other dose. He said this was her last chance to live. He took her to Grandine, where I was to leave the train. I gave this bottle to the husband to be used in case another woman should die. I was so anxious to get to Los Angeles, so I took the train, ran into the train, she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car.
